Secretary's office.

Juan Trippe of Pan American World Airways telephoned and left word for me of his interest in a matter concerning aviation gasoline which might come up at Cabinet this morning. Willard Thorp came in and briefed me on this same matter.

Attended Cabinet.

John Allison came in to see me.

Willard Thorp came in for his regular appointment, accompanied by Miss Donahue.

Lunched in my office with Paul Nitze.

Robert Bowie came in to see me. We talked European unification.

Ambassador Satterthwaite (Ceylon) came in to pay his respects.

Together with Doc Matthews, Jamie Donbright and Jeff Parsons, had a long and interesting talk with General Matthew B. Ridgway, who is about to leave for Europe to take over command of SHAPE.

I telephoned Juan Trippe to say I was [redacted] familiar with the severe crisis they are undergoing because of a shortage of aviation gasoline, and [redacted] I thought he would have a favorable answer on it tomorrow.

Long meeting with Messrs. Matthews, Allison, Bohlen, Armstrong, Polyzoides, Nolting and McWilliams.

Congressman Celler returned my call, [redacted] I told him we would communicate with the field people regarding the visa case in which he is interested, but [redacted] I could not guarantee the results. He was satisfied.

Bob Joyce came in.
